MESSAGE FROM THE PRINCIPAL Kevin R. Stansberry

To the Citizens of Mount Olive High School:

Welcome to the 2018-2019 school year! The Administration and Staff of Mount Olive High School are very excited by the prospects that are in store for all of us! A major component to our success as a school learning community is our ability to continue operating an institution centered on structure and order. We must refocus our efforts regarding conduct and attitudes conducive to a first-rate learning community. Please be reminded that your major objective is to concentrate on your academic responsibilities and the ancillary programs that are afforded to you. Your high school experience will be most enjoyable and exciting, but never lose sight of the fact that your first priority is to be directed towards your educational endeavors. There is an expectation that you will concentrate on your duties and responsibilities rather than your rights and privileges.

This handbook is intended to serve a multitude of purposes. A key to academic and extra-curricular success is contingent upon your organizational skills as a student. Enclosed is a school calendar that can be utilized to document assignments, tests, and project due dates, as well as club meeting dates and practice schedules. There are also a number of inserts containing essential general resources that will assist you with homework and related tasks.

This handbook will also serve as your pass notebook to move around the building. In order for you to visit the restroom facilities, library, nurse, main office, guidance department and/or any of our labs, you must present this handbook with the necessary signatures. Carry it with you at all times. We will require full cooperation, support and steadfast compliance.

One of the most compelling features of this handbook is the Student Code of Conduct. The contents of this section cover in great detail the expectations we have for each and every one of you. You and your parents are responsible for reading this section in its entirety. A special section has been inserted concerning the topic of harassment. You are encouraged to familiarize yourself with the definition, various components and the consequences of violating the language of the district's policy. Please be reminded that the issuance of this handbook constitutes your warning. Alluded to within the covers of this handbook is the basic value of RESPECT. Respect for self, Respect for your family, Respect for your peers, Respect for your teachers and Respect for your administrators. Anything less will not be tolerated!

The initiatives we have introduced are strong but the intention is to provide you with every opportunity to reach your potential as a complete student, ensuring that you are able to excel without disruption and enjoy a school environment conducive for boundless levels of achievement in every category!

You are, in part, responsible for your actions and for your well being as a student. Take advantage of the opportunities afforded you! Study, Manage your time, Plan ahead, Get involved in worthwhile activities, Excel and Obtain your goals!!!!

Have a terrific school year!

First We Will Be Best, Then We Will Be First!
